

Center for Climate Justice and Faith:

Linking Ecological Healing to Racial and Economic Justice

"Tree of Life" by Kristen Gilje

THE CENTER'S PROGRAMMATIC BRANCHES:

- Certification as a Green-Justice seminary
- Concentration in Climate Justice and Faith
- Certificate in Climate Justice and Faith (for clergy and leaders worldwide)
- Training in Community Organizing for Climate Justice as Love in Action (for clergy and leaders nationwide)
- Public programming
- Curricular innovations

THE CENTER'S ROOTS:

- God's liberating healing love at work in the world.
- The Spirit-led, Gospel-grounded, truth-telling, courageous impulse of re-formation at the heart of Lutheranism.

THE CENTER'S SUSTENANCE:

- Donors whose values, hopes, and intentions align with this Center, and who enable it to thrive, and bear rich fruit
- Circle of Partner Congregations, Synods, and Diocese
- Granting organizations

THE CENTER'S FRUIT:

- Graduates and participants prepared to cultivate moral, spiritual, and practical power for the work of climate justice in communities of faith and in collaboration with others.
- Congregations, synods, and diocese better equipped to fulfill their baptismal vocation to "seek justice and peace in all the Earth" in the age of climate crisis linked to racial and economic injustice.
- Faith communities around the globe better equipped to heed Jesus' call to love neighbor by working toward climate justice.
- PLTS leading in faith-based work for environmental justice and creation care.
- PLTS witnessing to the world that the church is relevant, justice-seeking, creation-caring, and empowering.
